

Seven key races Tuesday

By Bill Winter
Staff writer

Seven state, district and countywide races have attracted strong voter interest in the 1986 primary election Tuesday. The 67 Quad-City Area polls will be open from 6 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Key races include attorney general and state treasurer in the Democratic primary, the Republican U.S. Senate rivalry, the two congressional nominations and two county offices. In addition, spirited contests for Madison County Board member nominations and political party positions also are drawing citizens' attention.

SHERIFF AND SCHOOL contests are dominating the Democratic Party's competition at the county level.

Sheriff nomination contenders are Robert "Bob" Astorian, Granite City assistant police chief; Bob Churchich, Hartford police chief; Marty LeVault of Granite City and James Terry of Edwardsville, former sheriff deputies; and Beverly Smith of Cottage Hills, a Mitchell restaurant employee.

Astorian has the Democratic Central Committee's endorsement and Churchich is backed by retiring Sheriff Emil Toffant. Terry and LeVault also have wide support. Thomas "Tom" Voloski of Madison is unopposed for the Republican sheriff nomination.

GRANITE CITIZENS seeking the Democratic nomination to succeed retiring Regional Superintendent of Schools Harold E. "Gene" Briggs include his nephew, Harry A. Briggs Jr., principal of Niedringhaus Elementary School; Gilbert "Gib" Walmsley, Granite City High School principal; and Patricia Noth Gomba, a Granite City teacher.

Also running on the Democratic ballot is John Stevenson, Worden school superintendent. Dale Hammond of Alton, a teacher in Hazelwood, is unopposed on the Republican ticket.

U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, Belleville, who has served in Congress since January 1945, is opposed for the Democratic nomination by Pete Fields, Glen Carbon, Madison County auditor, Ronald "Rink" Lucas, Maryville, Madison County recorder of deeds, and Steve Maragides, Madison, an administrative law judge for the Illinois Revenue Department.

TRYING AGAIN for the Republican nomination in the 21st Congressional District is Robert "Bob" Gaffner, Greenville, director of community relations for the St. Louis Community Colleges. He was nominated twice before. Gaffner is opposed in the primary by Dr. David G. Wheeler, a Belleville dentist.

Hotly-contested Democratic primary tests have developed for Attorney General Neil Hartigan, Chicago, and State Treasurer James Donnewald, Breese.

Hartigan is opposed by Martin Oberman, a Chicago alderman. James P. Ryan is running for the Republican attorney general nomination.

DEWEALD'S foes in the primary are Joseph Cosentino, a former state treasurer; Patrick Quinn, a Cook County tax official and founder of the Illinois Coalition of Municipalities; and Robert D. Hart, Chicago. Unopposed for the Republican

Devils are tops

THE REV. JOHN HENRY WILLIAMS speaks Thursday at an assembly held at Venice High School honoring the Red Devils' basketball team. Williams and several other community leaders praised the Devils, seated in the background, for their 25-6 season which fell one game short of the state finals in Champaign. Ken Crawford, coach of the Teutopolis team that won state, said in a letter to Venice Coach Clinton Harris he realized the Super-Sectional game, in which the Wooden Shoes beat Venice 75-73 March 4 in Charleston, was the game that really decided the state title.

United Way offers grants

The Tri-Cities Area United Way has made available $11,225 to be allocated in venture grants to area human service agencies during 1986.

"The grant money was retained as a result of a citizens' review allocations process last year in anticipation of this community's changing needs," Joni Karandjef, United Way Priorities and Planning Committee chairperson, said.

PROPOSALS ARE BEING accepted from both member agencies and agencies not currently funded by the United Way. Grants to agencies will be awarded based on the demonstrated need for services and the nature of the project.

"United Way volunteers will screen and select those programs which meet the most vital community needs. The programs funded should provide a needed service to Tri-Cities Area residents."

"The amount of each grant will be determined by the type of projects selected and limited by the total amount of money we have available for funding new programs this year," Karandjef explained.

AREA AGENCIES are being asked to submit written proposals indicating how a grant would be used. Guidelines for submitting proposals are available at the United Way office, 2100 Edison Ave.

The deadline for submitting proposals is 4 p.m. April 30. Allocations of 1986 venture grant awards will begin June 1, 1986.

"Last year, the United Way board of directors anticipated community problems and the need for additional services. These funds are being made available thanks to the foresight of the volunteers who anticipated changes in needs and set aside the money to fund additional services," she said.

Wards will get street money

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

GRANITE CITY — Street work will be done in each ward, Mayor Von Dee Cruse said Friday.

The change in plans is a compromise move, Cruse said.

The mayor and some aldermen are at odds over how to spend $210,000 the city has set aside for street repairs. The mayor strongly advocates following a plan allowing the money to be spent where it is most needed. But Ward 5 Alderman Jake Varadian and other aldermen want the money divided equally among their wards. They contend the work is needed and they don't want the further delay developing a plan would cause. If the matter would have been debated on the council floor, Cruse said he believes he would have prevailed in his bid for a plan. But he said he would not have enjoyed the victory.

"We all could have lost by that kind of action on my part," he said.

Though agreeing now to allowing up to $30,000 in each ward for street work, Cruse will establish a committee to draft a plan to be used in the future. Priority street work will be done first, regardless of ward boundaries, he said.

Dividing the money this time probably won't mean any noticeable work in any ward, he said. Due to time constraints, he said he's also not sure all of the little projects wanted in each ward can be done before Superintendent of Streets Mac Warfield has to work on other city projects.

"Really, I felt this isn't a very good way of doing business," Cruse said. "It's not organized in any type of priority. I believe in spending money in the most efficient way for taxpayers."

Cruse said that after the committee he plans to form develops a plan, he will not compromise on the way street repair money is spent.

"I will go along with it this time, but this is the last time," he said.

The makin' o' the green

GRANITE CITY — Unusual things happen every year when St. Patrick's Day arrives.

The smell of corned beef and cabbage can be detected. "Good morning" is replaced with "top o' the mornin' to you."

Sunday focus

MEN'S LAPELS are ornate with buttons that say "Kiss me, I'm Irish" or "Erin go Bragh." Everyone is suddenly Irish for a day and all are clad in the traditional Kelly green.

And, of course, people head for the neighborhood taverns where green beer flows.

St. Patrick's Day is a holiday to some, but to area bar and tavern owners it's a working day: a day to make money.

HOLIDAY celebrations are slated for many area taverns and the money the increased business will bring will make tavern owners see "green."

"Business always picks up on St. Patrick's day," said Carmen Cook, owner of El Gato at 1800 Delmar Ave.

The annual tradition of free corned beef and cabbage and door prizes will take place at the tavern today. Cook is sure that it will bring in a lot of business.

"Business is always good," she said.

Celebrations in years past at El Gato have always included something to keep the customers coming back and spending more green.

One year, everyone dressed in green got a free drink. Those who didn't were charged more. THEN THERE WAS the year when everything was green, all the way from the whiskey to the tissue paper.

"We had green food coloring and whatever drink you wanted green was green," Cook said. This year, however, green beer won't be flowing at El Gato, Cook said.

"We usually have it," she said, "but some people get sick from it, so that's why we have to stay away from it."

Greer hopes to be Miss Illinois

By BILL MILLIGAN

GRANITE CITY — Someday, Jackie Greer, 22, wants to get married and have four sons. For right now, however, her goal is to become Miss Illinois and attend the Miss America pageant.

"It's not a beauty pageant," Greer said. "It's a scholarship pageant."

Whatever she calls it, Greer seems ready to take her place among the most beautiful women in Illinois at the Miss America qualifier July 6 through 13 in Elgin.

Greer qualified for the pageant March 3 when she won the Miss Mississippi Valley pageant held in Bethalto. This will be her second trip to the Miss Illinois event.

On her first trip in 1984, Greer won the swimsuit competition, but was not among the 10 finalists.

"It was neat to win the swimsuit competition, but I would rather have won the talent competition," Greer said.

Blessed with natural good looks, Greer said it was hard work that won her the swimsuit award.

"I do aerobic workouts twice a day and swim 50 laps," said Greer. "I have to keep my stomach flat. That is my weakness. I have to exercise."

Why work that hard to win a pageant? Every pageant has a silver lining. The winner of the Miss Illinois pageant will win a $5,000 scholarship.

Greer said women who have won the Miss America pageant can earn up to $100,000 during the year following their coronation. The money comes from endorsements and personal appearances.

Should Greer be chosen Miss Illinois, pageant officials will give her $1,500 to be used for expenses during the Miss America contest. "I want to win it so bad," Greer said. Greer, daughter of Jack and Melba Greer of Rodger Avenue, graduated from Granite City High School North in 1982. Miss Mississippi Valley, sponsored by the Bethalto Jaycees, was Greer's fifth entry in Miss America qualifying pageants.

Merger hearing planned

By Valerie Evenden

Residents of Venice and Madison are being urged to attend Wednesday's public hearing on the proposed consolidation of the two school districts.

A detailed preliminary plan will be explored at the public hearing, scheduled at 7 p.m. March 19 in the Madison Middle School cafeteria, Caine Drive and Farish Street.

HAROLD E. BRIGGS, regional superintendent of schools, said the School Reorganization Committee of Madison County will meet, with the public hearing included on its agenda.

"The public is invited and encouraged to attend," Briggs said.

Voters in both Madison School District 12 and Venice School District 3 would need to approve the proposal before merger could take effect.

A REVISED BILL was passed overwhelmingly March 5 by the legislature.

It will eliminate enrollment guidelines for school consolidation and instead put quality education uppermost. The bill also calls for formulating reorganization plans for districts not meeting minimum enrollment figures of 1,000 for elementary districts

Mr. Marcos took billions

By JACK ANDERSON and JOSEPH SPEAR

WASHINGTON — It's not clear yet where Ferdinand Marcos, the ex-president of the Philippines, will wind up in the record book of former heads of state who bled their people of millions before they left office.

Over the years, he exposed the source and extent of many rulers' ill-gotten wealth. Right now, we'd guess that Marcos will wind up in the grand theft standings somewhere ahead of the late Anastasio Somoza of Nicaragua, whose personal wealth was estimated at about $500 million, but probably not up with Mexican ex-president Jose Lopez Portillo ($1 billion to $5 billion). We're reasonably certain he wasn't in the same league with the shah of Iran ($25 billion), but only because the Philippines didn't have Iran's oil riches to plunder.

This time, the U.S. Congress is taking an interest in the president who took the money and ran. Investigators for the House subcommittee on Asian Affairs, chaired by Rep. Stephen Solarz, D-N.Y., are trying to determine if Marcos diverted any U.S. aid funds for his private investments. And the new Philippine government would like to recover any property that can be proved to have been illegally purchased by or for the Marcoses over the past 20 years.

The House investigators have already found evidence that the Marcoses own a huge midtown Manhattan shopping center and a prime chunk of Wall Street property, together worth more than $300 million, and a $20 million Suffolk County, N.Y., estate. Since Marcos' salary as president was only about $5,000-$6,000 a year, the ex-president would seem to have some substantial accounting to make. The Marcoses have denied ownership, but documents found in the plane they took into exile reportedly contain evidence that they owned some of the properties — as well as others not even suspected by House investigators.

Solarz was eager to interrogate several close associates of Marcos believed to have played key roles in his acquisition of U.S. real estate. In fact, associate Lucette Lagnado learned that Solarz wrote a confidential letter to Alan Nelson, chief of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, asking that his agents look for any of five specific Marcos associates trying to enter the United States. A month before Marcos fled, Solarz informed Nelson that the five Marcos cronies "will try to re-enter the United States sometime over the next few months."

Sooner than Solarz expected, the five went into exile with their de-throned patron. But the INS agents unaccountably failed to notify Solarz as he had requested. If they had, the five would have been served with subpoenas almost the moment they stepped off the plane in Hawaii.

The congressman was reportedly furious at the immigration agency's blunder. Subpoenas are still waiting, though, for banker Raulo Gai, Antonio Florindo, a sugar tycoon whose properties include a refinery in Brooklyn, Solarz backyard, Carmen Gomez, Imelda Marcos' accountant, Miguel Arguelles and Jorge Ramos, titular owners of Luna 7, a company that handled some of the real estate believed to belong to the Marcoses.

EXIT EXPENSES: How much have the taxpayers coughed up to fly de-throned dictators into exile in recent weeks? The air fare for Haiti's Jean-Claude "Baby Doc" Duvalier and his retinue was relatively cheap. State Department and Air Force experts estimate it cost $47,410 to fly them from Haiti to France in a single C-141 jet. Ferdinand Marcos and his family and cronies required a C-141 and a smaller jet over a longer stretch of territory. Estimated cost: $151,180, not including the expense of four helicopters that were used to fly him from his palace to Clark Air Force Base.

home, was refused admission.

Our office was able to take some immediate action in seeing to it that the individual was returned to the nursing home and was provided a bed on a timely basis. It is important to know that much of this work would not have been done had this regional office not been in existence to respond quickly and knowledgeably to the needs of the community.

The Granite City Regional Office serves an eight-county area including Madison, Bond, Fayette, Montgomery, Macoupin, Jersey, Greene and Calhoun counties.

Satellite offices have been established in each of the seven counties surrounding Madison County; a representative from the Granite City office travels twice per month to meet with individuals requiring the assistance of the attorney general's office in those areas.

It also is important to note that during the period the regional office program has been in existence, the Office of the Attorney General has returned more money to the state and to Illinois citizens than it spends.

During 1985, for every dollar spent, the attorney general's office brought in a minimum of $5.50 to the state.

Any individuals requiring the assistance of the Illinois attorney general's office should feel free to contact the Granite City Regional Office at 1314 Niedringhaus Ave. or call 877-0404.

Attorney General Neil F. Hartigan has established a system of 19 full-time, full-service regional offices in an effort to take the state's legal services directly to the citizens of Illinois.

Until he created the 19 regional offices, citizens in need of legal assistance from the state were forced to contact either Springfield or Chicago, the cities where the principal offices of the attorney general are located.

There have been more than 45,000 contacts from the public at the 19 offices that are spread throughout the state on a geographical basis.

The offices, collectively, have saved Illinois citizens over $5.5 million and handled over 1,400 lawsuits. Those lawsuits have resulted in $633,000 in judgments, $288,000 in money collected for the state, $850,000 in money saved the state, and $45,000 in money returned to citizens.

Each regional office serves as an extension of the services provided by the main office of the attorney general. As the state's chief legal officer, he represents each of the state officials, all state employees, and each of the approximately 200 state boards and agencies.

In addition, the General Assembly has given the attorney general specific duties, such as enforcing the provisions of the Illinois Consumer Fraud and Deceptive Practices Act, prosecuting violations of civil or equal rights, and administering the provisions of the Crime Victims Compensation Act and the Violent Crime Victims Assistance Act.

Attorney General Hartigan has expanded the citizen advocacy role of the office by creating new advocacy divisions and revitalizing old ones, including consumer protection, senior citizen, disabled, crime victims, veterans, and agriculture.

The Granite City Regional Office, since it opened in December 1984, has handled 2,660 inquiries or complaints from the public.

This advocacy work on behalf of area consumers and others in need of help has saved a total of $91,501 for individual citizens.

The Granite City office has handled 345 lawsuits since it was established. Those suits have resulted in $62,954 in judgments,

Maragides offers ability, savvy and stamina

To The Editor:

So the mayor of Granite City went to Washington to talk to our incumbent congressman, and announced that the congressman "is as sharp as he's ever been."

For years, reporters in this area have tried to arrange for an interview with Cong. Price, but the reporters have been repeatedly refused. Why does the incumbent need a middleman to announce that he is okay?

If the incumbent really is "as sharp as he's ever been," he should consent to an on-camera interview to prove this. If he refuses, the voters of this district have a right to assume he is incapable of carrying on as congressman.

The mayor says the only thing the congressman's opposition can "take a shot at" is his health and age.

If a congressman does not have the stamina to lobby for this congressional district, that is reason enough to retire him. The mayor takes the position that the issue of our congressman's health has been overplayed. Yet, our congressman's fellow House Democrats stripped him of his chairmanship of the House Armed Services Committee in a very unusual revolt against the seniority system.

House Majority Leader Jim Wright, D-Texas, a Price supporter, said after the ouster: "I think there was a sense that Mel, because of physical disabilities, gives the impression of not being in command of the situation."

I think the voters of this district should vote for Steve Maragides for Congress.

Those who know Steve know he stands for the things this district stands for — New Deal social values, together with an adequate national defense. He also has the physical capability to lobby for these policies. Those who know Steve also know he has more political savvy than all the other candidates put together.

Candidates offer jobs for support

To The Editor:

It looks like the Madison County sheriff's race is coming down to the wire. The wheeling and dealing are hot and heavy and the suspense is killing us.

One of the more fascinating aspects of the primary is not the candidates themselves, but the jobs those candidates may have dealt to their "friends."

Word has it that the police chief from Hartford has at least six men to fill one deputy job. That is sure going to be a crowded office. Remarkably, a man or two from Granite City, a man or two from Madison, a man from Alton and a man on the staff now are standing in line for the job.

The "endorsed" guy for sheriff must really have his hands full. Just think, all those smiling faces to satisfy now that he has their "blessing." The rumor is that he's gone into the Hartford candidate's front yard to fill his assistant job, assuming that guy is okay with his new endorsed friends.

And a deputy sheriff thinks that he can get elected without selling the ranch. Heck, I think he ought to consider doing this, too.

The poor other Granite City candidate and the waitress — they don't seem to cut the mustard. Oh well, could you pass me some salt?

All this political talk drives me crazy. With all these jobs being filled, no wonder unemployment is falling. But friends, with all these guys and all those jobs, you just have to ask yourself who is fooling whom?

Parents voice pride in Briggs as educator

To The Editor:

When we heard that Harry Briggs was running for the office of regional superintendent of schools, our first thought was "Oh, no." We parents at Niedringhaus School did not want to lose him as our principal.

Mr. Briggs has been the kind of leader we are proud that our children can look up to. We have watched him handle every problem — whether it be with a teacher, parent or child — with professionalism, kindness and fairness.

We know he truly cares about our children and the education they receive. We have seen his pride in them when they accomplish something and his concern when they are sick or hurt.

He is not afraid to give them the firm discipline they need. We truly hate to lose him, but we know that our loss will be the gain of all of the children in Madison County.

Astorian best man to be sheriff

To The Editor:

We all know that some of our public officials require a politician to do a good job; someone who knows how to "deal" in order to be effective.

The office of sheriff, however, is not one of those. I, for one, do not want a politician for sheriff of this county. I want a man who knows law enforcement, has been trained in his field, and who is dedicated to serving the people through that training and ability.

Bob Astorian has never dabbled in politics or public life. He's never been a precinct committeeman, an alderman or a County Board member.

Astorian, in fact, for the past 24 years has been a dedicated public servant in our police department. And during that 24 years, he has constantly trained himself through education to do that job to the best of his ability.

This is the man I want in the sheriff's office. This is the man I think will do the best job.

If you check out the backgrounds of the candidates, I think you will agree that one man is outstanding in the field of candidates. His qualifications excel. Please vote on March 18 for Bob Astorian, the man who can do the job.

Teenage parents gain self reliance in program

By BILL MILLIGAN
Staff Writer

GRANITE CITY — Nine teenage mothers graduated from the Career Bound program sponsored by Parents Plus.

The program was developed to help teenagers cope with the responsibilities of parenting and finding a job, said Keith Neuber, director of Parents Plus.

"Most of these kids would not have been here by choice," Neuber said. "Their graduation is inspirational."

"Before entering the program, nearly all of these young women slept late and sat in front of the TV all day," Neuber said.

Career Bound has changed all that.

"This program has helped me to change my way of thinking," said Angie Epps, of Granite City. "I get up at 8 (a.m.) now. I get along with my parents better, too."

The program has been in operation since April 1985 and has graduated more than 90 teenage parents. Most of them were high school drop outs, but Neuber claims more than 80 percent of their grads return to school and earn diplomas or general equivalence degrees.

Traditional support groups like families and the church have not always been sympathetic to teenage parents, Neuber said. The result is a negative self image.

"It's hard for them to believe they can succeed on their own," Neuber said.

Career Bound develops self reliance and increases their belief in their ability to find a job.

"The future is too important to leave to chance," said Yvette Brown, of Venice.

Others agreed. All were looking toward the future after their graduation from the Career Bound program.

"I want to go to college," said Lisa Howard, of Granite City. "This program has motivated me to better myself. I have to take that first step by getting out of bed."

Neuber estimates his program saves $57,000 in state aid for every teenage parent taken off public assistance. The program also creates taxpaying citizens, he said.

More than 15 percent of the live births in Madison County last year were to teenagers, Neuber said.

The program is funded through the Job Training Partnership Act.

Pontoon Beach continues to operate 'in the black'

By JOAN PACE

The Village of Pontoon Beach continues to operate "in the black," while several other local communities have a more difficult time working within their budgets, according to Pontoon Beach Board of Trustees Don Rea.

His comments, made at Tuesday night's village board meeting, were in response to reports reflecting the financial status of Pontoon Beach, submitted by Treasurer Ray Gaudette.

GAUDETTE'S REPORTS indicated the village has, as a whole, been operating well within its budget.

In other discussion during Tuesday's meeting, Rea said he anticipates an ordinance regarding village employees' enrollment in the Illinois Municipal Retirement Fund program will be submitted to the board in May.

An actuarial study has been made of the program, which would involve all salaried village employees.

THE VILLAGE BOARD voted to approve a maintenance contract with Comfort Air Conditioning and Heating.

Trustees agreed the contract — the cost of which has not increased over the past year — pays for itself within a short time.

The next meeting of the Pontoon Village Board will be held Tuesday, March 25, at 7 p.m.

An attempted assault was made on a female student at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville at 1:45 a.m. Monday.

Investigators believe there is a connection between the suspect and a purse snatcher who took two purses early Saturday morning in the same area, near the Tower Lake apartments, for students. Purses were grabbed at 2:49 a.m. and 6:30 a.m.

Smith said "no actual sexual assault" occurred. An Edwardsville Police Department dog unsuccessfully attempted to track the suspect.

A REMINDER FROM THE LAW TODAY

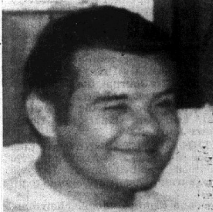

Last year, the Virginia state medical board forced an obstetrician to give up his license after an investigation showed gross negligence and incompetence for two decades. In one instant, this doctor induced labor two weeks early, because he wanted to go on vacation, then smashed the baby's head when he tried to pull it from the womb with forceps. As a result, the child was seriously deformed.

While this doctor's performance history may be unusually bad, the case illustrates the need for a more effective disciplinary system in the medical profession. The work of an incompetent doctor can bring about tragic results. In the absence of a strong disciplinary system for doctors, the only protection the public has lies in its right to bring suit against those doctors whose negligence has injured them. Now, because of intense pressure from medical lobbyists, the right to sue and recover damages against doctors has been limited in many states. In those states, which include Illinois, it may well become almost impossible to know if the doctor you have chosen is competent, or to recover damages for the injuries caused to you if he is not.

We will be discussing this and other topics on Tuesday night's program.

Jack C. Ventimiglia, East Side Publications executive editor, will be guest speaker at Gateway Business and Professional Women's second annual "Public Relations Night" dinner at 6:30 p.m. Monday, March 17.

The publishing company includes the Granite City Press-Record, the Granite City Press-Record/Journal Sunday, the Cahokia Journal, the Dupu Journal and the East St. Louis News-Journal.

THE BUFFET DINNER will take place at Juno's Restaurant, 2220 Pontoon Road, formerly Erway's Restaurant. Guests are invited to attend.

Donna Kimbro, dinner chairman, said reservations will be accepted through Sunday by calling the chairman at 876-7397, or Ollie Derr at 877-8251 after 5 p.m.

Named executive editor on April 3, 1985, the guest speaker was formerly managing editor for the publishing firm. Previously, he was news coordinator with the Belleville Journal, the O'Fallon Journal and County Journal.

VENTIMIGLIA was news editor of the Clinton County News and was feature editor of the Florissant Focus in Missouri.

He holds a master of arts degree in mass communication and a bachelor of science degree in the same field from Central Missouri State University at Warrensburg.

While at CMSU, Ventimiglia

J. C. Ventimiglia

HE SERVED also as student senate president while attending St. Louis Community College at Florissant Valley, where he earned an associate in arts degrees in journalism and broadcasting.

The guest speaker has taught feature writing courses at the main campus of Belleville Area College. Ventimiglia and his wife, the former Patricia Flanagan, are the parents of a daughter, Grace Anna, 19 months.

In the business session, Gateway members will elect new officers, Judith McCann, president, said.

Smith earnings match last year

A.O. Smith Corp. expects its first quarter primary earnings from continuing operations to be at least as good as the same period last year. Thomas I. Delan, chairman and chief executive officer, said March 10 at a meeting in Milwaukee. He was speaking in connection with additional Class B common stock the company hopes to issue.

It was the first of a series of meetings the company will be holding around the U.S.

In the first quarter of fiscal 1985, October-December 1984, the company earned $7.5 million, or 99 cents per share, from continuing operations. Smith, with its subsidiaries and affiliates, is a diversified manufacturer ranked 323rd on the Fortune magazine list of largest U.S. manufacturers.

St. Margaret Mary's Cub Scout Pack 103 held a blue and gold banquet on March 9. Pack 103 has three leaders. The leaders are Diane Seiz, Bonnie Miller, Mary Ann Cupples, Janice Brimberry and Richard Dunbar. Father Francis Xavier Tebananga opened the meeting with prayer. There was a potluck dinner before the program began.

After dinner, Ron Luebben presented the charter and announced that Gertrude Luebben is the unit commissioner and Pack 103 liaison to the Boy Scout Council.

Boys from Den 1 told a recipe for "Old Glory" and Den 3 recited a poem about scouting. Richard Dunbar gave a report on the pinewood derby and presented certificates for participating.

The pack members received awards and badges they had earned. Guests of honor included Father Francis, Sister Marilyn, Therese, Sister Josella, Sister Charlette and Mr. and Mrs. Ron (Gertrude) Luebben.

The kindergarten, 1st and 2nd grade students from St. Margaret Mary's School launched balloons with addresses in them to see from how far away they would receive responses. Many hundreds of miles, they learned.

They are using a map to show where their balloons landed. The wind blew east strongly.

Those who received responses included one from West Virginia.

The five included Michelle Gegele (her balloon landed in Westerville, Ohio), Rachel Kulaska (Mooreville, Ind.) and Tim Gossie (Berkeley Springs, W. Va.).

John D. Waynick III received a reply from Marietta, Ohio, and Heather Moll received a response from Armand, Ohio.

The teachers at St. Margaret Mary said they found this project to be an exciting event for the whole school population.

Rosanna Marie Gordon celebrated her sixth birthday with friends and family members on March 1 at Pantera's Pizza. The children played games and enjoyed pizza, cake and soda.

District 25, Donald Rea, incumbent, and Merl Hayden.

No Republicans filed for those board positions.

FOR DEMOCRATIC state central committeeman (male) in the 21st Congressional District, the candidates are Bruce Cook, Belleville, incumbent, and Floyd Fessler Jr., Bethalto.

Sharon Perjak, who serves on the City Council in Granite City, is unopposed to be elected Tuesday as Democratic state central committeeman (female).

Contenders for a lone position as Republican state central committeeman are Dr. Edward Ragsdale, the party's Madison County chairman for the past 10 years, and Harry Sterling of O'Fallon, a Fairview Heights attorney. James Radden is retiring from the post.

In many neighborhoods, Democratic and Republican precinct committeemen will be elected March 18.

and 500 for high school districts.

PUBLIC CONCERN about the future of smaller districts resulted in the bill being revised. Such concern was voiced by some Venice residents.

Major changes, expected to be signed into law, replace enrollment figures with minimum curriculum requirements that a school should be offering students.

A district unable to offer courses enabling students in grades 9 through 12 to meet the preparation and admission requirements for public colleges and universities has several recourses under the new provisions.

ASSISTANCE will be provided any district by the State Board of Education in evaluating curriculum with regard to the educational needs of pupils and the availability of revenue.

Such a curriculum when achieved will be identical to the required courses students need to enter state colleges and universities beginning in 1990.

At the Venice Board of Education meeting Thursday night, Superintendent Robert N. Vickers reported the North Central Association of Colleges and Schools will evaluate the district in April 1987.

SEVERAL ALTERNATIVES now appear open to districts which were targeted for consolidation under the original bill.

In order to provide courses enabling students to meet college admission requirements, a district may consider implementing traditional classroom methods.

twirling competitions at age 13. For five years she entered baton and talent competitions. At 18, she entered her first Miss America qualifier.

"I didn't win the first three, but on the fourth, everything clicked," she said.

In 1981 she was named Miss Collinsville.

Preparing for a pageant is rather like preparing for a wedding, Greer said. To win, one must pay attention to detail. Assessor's must all match. Together, they must all complement the gowns selected.

"You have to plan what you wear," she said. "One judge asked me why I picked what I was wearing."

There are four parts to Miss America qualifying pageants: the interview, the talent, swimsuit and evening gown competitions. "My favorite is the evening gown competition," Greer said. "I picked out an elegant dress. I felt really beautiful in it."

Greer has studied voice for nine years. "I have always dreamed of becoming Miss America," Greer said. "If it were impossible, no one would try to do it. Every year, they name a new Miss America. This year, I would like to be there."

• Green

will serve corned beef and cabbage.

Green beer is planned at Ingleside, but the demand for it is not high, said owner Don Parente.

"If they want green beer, we have food coloring to make it green," Parente said, "but not too many people want it."

A celebration of green is planned St. Pat's Bar, tomorrow, at the Den Restaurant at 2401 State St.

THE MENU will feature traditional corned beef and cabbage, green popcorn and green beer served by waitresses attired in green.

"It's a good day and well attended," said owner Buck Pyatt.

However, the lower prices won't mean a loss of the green for him.

"You can afford to have it because you have a lot of people there," he said.

IRISH FESTIVITIES too are planned for Ernie and Annie's Tavern at 935 Niedringhaus. A big crowd of all nationalities is expected to dine on corned beef and cabbage and to drink green suds.

"It's a real good day for business," said Barbara Torres, tavern employee. "People come out even though they're not Irish."

Charlie's Restaurant started a weekend-long St. Pat's celebration Friday with corned beef and cabbage and green drinks, popcorn, bread and horsed'ish all served on tables with green tablecloths.

"The business picks up but it is going to be hard to judge with it being on Monday this year," said Sandy Ousley, a hostess.

When Tuesday rolls around, the green beer will have been consumed, the corned beef and cabbage will have been eaten, and the green decorations will have been put away for another year.

That's when the tavern owners will start "the countin' o' the green."

Main drive at SEMC closed

Beginning Monday, the main entrance and drive at St. Elizabeth Medical Center, on the Washington Avenue side of the complex, will be closed for repairs.

Access to the medical center will be limited to entrances on 21st Street, including the medical arts

ELECT ROBERT "BOB" CRIDER

COUNTY BOARD DISTRICT 19
DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATE

FRIENDS AND VOTERS OF
COUNTY BOARD DISTRICT 19

Tuesday you will be selecting candidates that may represent you in political office for the next four years. One way or another, each elected candidate will impact on our lives and our future. As a candidate for County Board in District 19 I urge you to review the qualifications of all candidates before making your decision as who you think best represent our community. Before making your choice for County Board please ask yourself the following questions.

(1) Is it in the best interest of our district to elect people who are already serving in elected positions and are asking you to elect them to two offices on Tuesday? I have stated publicly that I am opposed to anyone holding more than one elected office.

(2) Should our elected officials only be interested in what the community can do for them or should they be willing to give something back to our community?

I MAKE THE FOLLOWING PLEDGES TO YOU

1. To do my VERY BEST EVERY DAY in an honest and fair manner to provide you with the BEST SERVICE an elected official can give.

2. If elected all money due me for serving on the County Board will be applied to a trust fund. A committee consisting of a retired educator, a handicapped person and a professional business person will be responsible for determining the best possible use of these funds.

3. I will not seek to have any member of my family hired in public jobs.

Finally you should ask yourself, who is the person best qualified to serve you and our community?

I feel that my successful business background, which has included dealing with all levels of government (city, county, state and federal), my willingness to devote time to public service (which includes six years Board of Education, 10 years developing programs to provide job opportunities for handicapped persons, eight years Board of Directors for Visually Impaired Persons), while maintaining the energy and dedication to operate my own business in a successful manner, has provided me with the experience and knowledge to represent you in a manner satisfactory to all.

Now that the campaign is coming to a close and selection is up to you, I want to thank you for inviting me into your homes to discuss my views and desires to improve our area.

I would consider it a honor to represent you on the County Board.

SINCERELY, YOUR CANDIDATE FOR COUNTY BOARD MEMBER

Election fraud charge made

By Jack C. Ventimiglia

EAST ST. LOUIS — Election fraud allegations are being made by three St. Clair County Board members who competed in Tuesday's primary for re-election. Arrested on charges for forging a name on a ballot and unlawful observation of a person voting was Marvin Hibbler, East St. Louis, said St. Clair County State's Attorney John Barcovic on Friday. The investigation continues, Barcovic said. The arrest was made prior to the voter fraud allegations, but may be related, he said.

The three Democrats asked U.S. Attorney Frederick Hess to investigate charges they make in a March 10 letter. The letter is signed by board members Will McGaughy, District 7; George Thomas, District 3; and Wilma J. Gomez, District 2.

"I think it's a concerted effort to try to get us off that board," Thomas said, but he could not give a reason why anyone would be using such a method. "We don't know ourselves."

McGaughy said Thursday said they can back their charges. McGaughy produced a tape-recorded conversation with a person to support the contention that illegal activities involving absentee ballots had occurred. A portion of the tape involved a man stating he was talked into registering to vote, but he was later given an absentee ballot he hadn't expected to get.

McGaughy said he will protest the election if Tuesday's results go against him.

Hess said Thursday the matter is being pursued in cooperation with Barcovic.

"If they have specific allegations and relate them to the FBI we will make a determination at that point if it is properly prosecuted in state or federal court," Hess said.

Excerpts from the letter to Hess state:

"The scheme involves widespread absentee voting in which persons have obtained substantial numbers of absentee applications and through various methods (coercion of voters and forgery), resulted in a large number of votes already being cast for candidates in the March 10th election. Primary Madison County Auditor Pete Fields.

Price may have lost some support in East St. Louis when Mayor Earl Oliver, a former Price supporter, broke ties with the congressman. Officer endorsed Price's opponent in the Democratic Primary Madison County Auditor Pete Fields.

Other political leaders on the list are U.S. Sen. Alan Dixon, D-Illinois; state Sen. Kenneth Hall, D-East St. Louis; state Rep. Wyyetter Young, D-East St. Louis; and the St. Clair County Democratic Party chairman, Robert Sprague.

Fewer must pay tax estimate

More than 270,000 Illinois taxpayers are no longer required to make estimated state income tax payments.

State Revenue Director J. Thomas Johnson said a change in the estimated payment threshold from $50 to $250 means almost half of the Illinois citizens who paid estimated taxes in 1985 aren't required to do so in 1986.

Estimated payments are usually made four times a year by people who are self-employed or by people who have income that is not covered by withholding. In the past, persons who owed $50 or more annually in state income tax liability that wasn't covered by withholding were required to make estimated payments. The amount was changed to $250 by a law that took effect Jan. 1.

Projections indicate only 300,000 taxpayers will make estimated payments in 1986 under the new law. More than 577,000 did so last year.

Changing estimated payment levels does not affect the amount of tax liability. Persons who will owe more than $250 in additional income tax are still required to make estimated payments.

For information, the Department of Revenue has a new toll-free number, 1-800-723-8866.

Grimming leads state police in fighting drugs

An anti-terrorism training program, inaugurated in December, is one of three major statewide law enforcement programs developed by Major Ronald H. Grimming, Area IV commander of the Illinois State Police.

A Belleville resident, Grimming commands an area which includes five State Police districts in the 41 southernmost counties. He succeeded in the past as commander of the Illinois State Police.

In addition, more than $600,000 cash and numerous other assets, such as airplanes and cars, have been seized from drug dealers. Grimming began his state law enforcement career in April 1970, when he accepted a position as a special agent with the Illinois Bureau of Investigation, since renamed the Division of Criminal Investigation.

As a special agent and squad leader, he supervised squads investigating race track operations, covert drug operations and political and police corruption in the greater East St. Louis area between 1971 and 1978.

In April 1978, he served as commander of DCI's Financial Fraud and Forgery Bureau at DCI's Financial Office.

In September 1981, he was appointed acting assistant director of the Financial Fraud and Forgery Bureau, based in Chicago.

Grimming came back to the Metro East area in January 1982, when he was named special agent in charge of Area IV operations. At that position, he administered and supervised all field investigations in Area IV.

In November 1982, he was promoted to assistant director of DCI, assuming responsibility for supervision of all field operations throughout the state.

Grimming has a bachelor of arts degree in history from Southern Illinois University and has attended St. Louis University Law School.

He is married to the former Karen Hopfinger. They have five children and reside in Belleville.

Letters

Vital to local taxpayers to vote Tuesday

To the Editor: Taxation has been a controversial subject since the Boston Tea Party and the American Revolution. It continues to be now, with federal, state and local governments each seeking a share of our income.

We still have instances of unfair taxation. It might be a difference in taxing a neighbor's property lower than its value while others of similar value pay more.

Something the school board or federal, state and local governments must pay their income taxes with no loopholes, while great corporations pay little or nothing in spite of huge profits.

We can no longer expect to have a Boston Tea Party but we do have a right to protest if we feel our taxes are unfair.

Property taxes are the source of money for financing our school system. More than half of each local tax dollar goes to the schools. A campaign is being conducted for a county wide school superintendent.

On the evening of Feb. 28, we saw practically every lawn in the neighborhood had sprouted a sign for an opposing candidate.

Some time that night, our sign disappeared. I suppose from the shame of being out there all alone. Maybe someone plans to conduct the office in the same manner, at night when no one is looking.

Good examples of tax dollars not properly supervised are the "white elephant" schools built in Granite City at a cost of many millions. One recently sold for a fraction of its cost.

It would be of interest to know who makes the decisions that involve inadequate studies of what the system requires. Is it something the school board decides on its own, or do they have qualified experts on the subject, and who are they?

Since we purchased our home, property taxes have tripled and I am sure the end is not in sight. We thought that when we had paid our mortgage we could spend our senior years free of worry and debt. With ever-increasing taxes, we will be buying our lives for the second time, with the tax collector holding a permanent mortgage.

I am sure many others find themselves in the same situation. Some have decided it's cheaper to live in an apartment than to have the cost of maintaining a home and paying taxes on it.

The least we can do is take more interest in all elections and vote for those we believe to be the best candidates for the job.

We should take as much pride in voting as in saluting our flag. As a nation, we too quickly forget what so many gave their lives for in past conflicts. Surely, we can take enough time to vote in every election, a freedom and right so many fought and died for.

research it at every angle before making a decision. There is not an individual who can please everyone all the time. All you can do is make an honest decision to please the majority of your constituents as often as possible. So, please go to the polls election day and cast your vote for Helen (number 140) in District 19. Have a representative who will think of you first, at all times.

Candidate represents people

To the Editor: The people in the 19th District have the opportunity to elect a Madison County Board member who will represent them all equally.

The primary election will be March 18. While electioneering, school officials who can't be bought. Maybe that is the reason most politicians are never for us. In fact, they put up a front of money to defeat her, but she doesn't give up easily.

Anytime something comes before the board, you can bet she will

Tennis team looking for improvement

By Dave Whaley
Staff writer

GRANITE CITY — There are still a lot of questions to be answered, but with the first match two weeks away, the Granite City High School tennis team figures to improve.

A 7-6 team last year, Dick Harmon's squad is a young team that he hopes will improve as the year goes on.

"As the weather gets warmer, I think they will get better," said Harmon, who has been associated with the high school for over 30 years. "Hopefully, we can stay at the same level we were at last year."

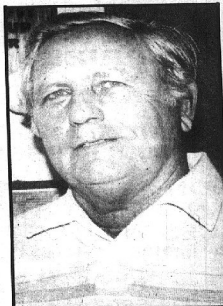

Harmon has a long list of hopefuls to draw on, and he said it's still too early to say who his doubles teams will be. But one thing he is sure of is Robbie Lombardi. A senior, he will be the No. 1 singles player.

"Robbie is one of the better singles players on this side of the river," Harmon said. "He just has a good all-around game going for him. And this year he is a lot quicker. He seems to be in control of his game a lot more. He should be a good one."

Other players Harmon is counting on to contribute are sophomores Jim Johannpeter and Matt Kerekovich.

"Jim was able to play a lot indoors this winter and it really made a big difference in his game," Harmon said. "He's looking real good and should be improved."

Other players on the squad include seniors Tony Proffitt and Ben Sanders; juniors Chris Holland, Jay Strotheide, Bill Gauror and David Marti; and freshmen Richard Harmon, Steve Williams and Eric Patton.

"We haven't worked too much on doubles yet," Harmon said. "But we have been able to get outside for some practices."

The season opens March 31 with a match at home against Cabokia. Harmon pointed to the Belleville schools as the teams to watch in this area.

"I think both Belleville East and Belleville West will be the best teams in this area," he said. "It's very important for tennis players to have a place to play all year, and they have the Oak Hill Club there where they can get their work in. They were both very strong last year and should be again."

ROBBIE LOMBARDI figures to be the No. 1 singles player for Dick Harmon on this spring's Granite City High School tennis team.

TAMMY DEAL, running in last spring's 800 meter medley in the state finals, will be one of the top returning members of the Madison girls track team.

Trojanettes have youth, numbers

MADISON — If there is one thing for certain this year, Madison girls track coach Luvenia Long won't be lonely.

The Trojanettes have numbers on their side this year and Long hopes that will translate into meet victories.

Madison returns just five letter winners from last season and none of those are seniors. In fact, three are sophomores.

"We have a lot of young talent out this year and a lot of girls who ran in junior high," Long said.

Long said junior high coach Al Collins, also an assistant boys coach, gave her a list of probable eighth graders last year and Long kept tabs on those girls.

"We've got a young team and if I can keep them interested, we should do all right," the Madison coach said.

In all, 24 girls have stuck out practices.

"It's the biggest group since my first year here, in 1971," Long said. "I think that year we started with 30 girls."

Returning letter winners include: juniors Tammy Deal and Lisa Davenport; and sophomores Chelsea Smith, Sheila Marshall and Angela Harper.

As usual, the Trojanettes should be quick. Last year, Deal had the fastest time in the quarter-mile entering the state finals. The Madison runner, however, never got a chance to run in the final.

Deal was involved in a fall in the finals of the 880 medley relay as she entered the homestretch. Injuries forced her to scratch in the finals of the open 400.

"Don't even talk about that," said Long, who obviously wanted to block the incident out of her mind.

This aside, the Trojanettes could fare well this season.

The returning lettermen will run mostly in the sprint and relay races. Another sprinter is Vivian Turner, a freshman.

The relays teams should be strong. Both Deal and Harper ran last year's medley and Marshall ran a leg on the relay last year.

A new race for the girls this year is the two-mile relay. When the Trojanettes run in an indoor meet at EU this Saturday, Long will send Tammy Enlow, Tonya Wellmaker, Coretta Farrell and Tina Montgomery on the track.

Dezonna Echols is a promising hurdler. Long jumpers include Sharon Browley, Yvonna Sanders and Tina Montgomery, all freshmen.

Moving to the field events, ed in to throw the shot put, Gloria Marshall will high jump. She has some experience, having cleared 4-6 in junior high school.
